Semington WI February Meeting

All our New Year's resolutions went out the window when we met in February. Our speaker was Deanna Deburgh who showed us how to make handcrafted chocolates. She brought with her plenty of tasters and chocolates to buy. I don't think too many of us went home empty handed. It was lovely to welcome more new faces and five ladies from Lacock WI.

Our next meeting will be on Thursday 10th March 7.30pm. This will be our AGM where the committee will be elected, etc. Once the formalities have been completed we hope to carry on with a social evening. Look forward to seeing you there.

February's quiz was very well attended, with 7 teams, so many thanks to everyone for coming. The quiz was set by a new team too, so a big thank you to Ann & David, Jill & Rob and Carol. It was an excellent quiz, I've been told.

The Marathon was a great round of song lyrics where you had to identify the song and singer. A few were on the tip of your tongue, which is very frustrating. For example, "All the leaves are brown and the sky is grey." Or "Can you catch it on your tonsils, can you heave it left and right?" Answers below. Regulars to the quiz will know how good Terry's Turnips team are at anything related to music so, not surprisingly, they won the Marathon.

They also came second in the main quiz, with 60 points, just ahead of Team Clueless and $6\frac{1}{2}$ points behind the winners, Team Walking Wounded (Gaye, Angela and friends). There were rounds on TV & entertainment, General Knowledge, Geography, History and Wiltshire. One question had a particularly surprising answer: Which British female singer had 3 top 10 hits in the UK and in the US in the 1980s? You would think it might have been Annie Lennox or Kim Wilde or even Sheena Easton, but no... it was Sam Fox! Can you name any of her songs now? No, me neither!

More people would be welcome at the quiz. If you are on your own we can always put you in a team. See you there! Julia Wade

Closure of the Good Neighbour Co-ordinator Service

Wiltshire Council is working with area boards to change the way it works with communities to facilitate local wellbeing. As a result of this the Wiltshire Good Neighbours service which has operated successfully in parts of Wiltshire since 2010 is to come to an end on March 31st. Local area boards across Wiltshire will set up local wellbeing groups that will bring together key individuals and organisations to ensure communities have the information and opportunities to remain healthy and well.

At present, the exact arrangements being put in place by each area board have yet to be finalised and anyone requiring support in the meantime should contact the Wiltshire Council Adult Care Help Line on 0300 456 0111 or email customeradvisors@wiltshire.gov.uk.

A message from Lise Griffiths: 'I have thoroughly enjoyed my time working with the rural communities in the Melksham Community Area and to have had the opportunity to meet so many fantastic people. Please can I take this opportunity to thank the Parish Magazines, Parish Councils and village organisations for their support in helping to get out the message about the service offered by Wiltshire Good Neighbours.'

EDITOR'S COMMENTS

1. So far in Wiltshire, we have had really a mild winter! Is it going to last I wonder? Feels to me there is already a spring snap in the air.
2. There is much talk about internet dangers, and personally, I can only see it getting worse as more and more people get access and want to "put things on for everyone to see", especially our younger generation. I really do hope that our schools are teaching youngsters how to look after themselves on the internet.
3. I read an intriguing Confucius quote today and I'm still thinking about what it means. "You have two lives. The second one begins when you realise you only have one".

If you have something you want to say, why not drop me a line for the next edition?

Are we getting paranoid?

I spotted this in a magazine. It supports what Paul says in Neighbourhood Watch (page 21).

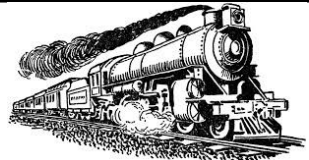

7 Social Media posts that are a gift to criminals

- 1 Real-time photographs from your holiday – you're telling burglars your house is empty. Wait until you get home to post your holiday snaps.
- 2 Similarly, using Facebook's checking-in feature when you're at the airport, accompanied by a photo of you and your pre-flight glass of wine!
- 3 Photos of your car and house.
- 4 The school you attended and the dates you were there – just what criminals need to compile a dossier of your personal details.
- 5 Birthdays and anniversaries.
- 6 Your phone number and email address
- 7 Pets' and children's names – often used in security questions.

Headteacher: Mr Gordon Campbell

The new year has started well at St George's. New staff have settled well and have had a positive impact both within and beyond their roles. The children have adapted well to a new phonics programme that we have introduced and are continuing to rise to the challenges we put before them. We have also been involved with the Bike It+ programme and during the term our older children conducted a street survey – their pupil's manifesto can be viewed on the Big Street Survey website: <http://bigstreetsurvey.sustrans.org.uk/manifestos/61/view>

Next term we are looking forward as part of this programme to a visit by Matti Hemmings, a BMX Stunt rider and Guinness World Record Holder – more to follow.

Also we have our FOSG Jumble Sale on the 12th March and Chocolate Bingo after school on Tuesday 22nd March

Finally ,you are also welcome to join us for our Easter Service at the church on Wednesday 23rd March at 14:00.

SEMINGTON BASED

Advice is what we ask for when we already know the answer but wish we didn't

SOME NEWS FROM SEMINGTON PARISH COUNCIL (PC)

It's very rare I write anything in the magazine but be assured I am working hard for the benefit and interests of Semington.

My 25 years on the PC have been plagued with spats with the officers of Wiltshire Council (WC) planning department , the most recent is the failure of the council to enforce a 'no burning of rubbish' at the Lansdowne travellers/gypsy site together with the restriction the site is not to be used for any commercial activity.

The PC reluctantly did not object to the latest planning application when we were assured that WC would impose a number of conditions, two which we were keen on. 1 - No burning of rubbish on the site. 2 - The closing of an illegal entrance that had been created over WC land. Having imposed the conditions, WC claim they can't enforce them! We disagree! I will continue to bombard the council until they do what they are paid to do, with the help of our WC councillor Jonathon Seed.

Residents can help by taking pictures and noting dates and times and passing them to the PC and Jonathon Seed. If you are concerned about WC's lack of action please write to them!

Robert Oglesby, Chairman Semington PC

BUS SERVICES – RURAL SERVICES TO BE AXED?

Reminder - Don't forget!!!!

Please respond to the consultation OR YOU MAY LOSE THE CURRENT SERVICES (e.g. Nos 39, 49 and X34)!

The Council has made no decisions and would like to see how far residents agree or disagree with the presented options, or alternatively suggest their own. Consultation documents (including questionnaires) can be viewed on the council's consultation portal:

<http://consult.wiltshire.gov.uk/portal>

The consultation stays open until 5pm on the 4th April 2016.

WILTSHIRE COUNCIL NEWS FROM JONATHON SEED

My experience of Semington is of a village well represented with a strong Parish Council and excellent community spirit. Residents are not afraid to engage and help where something or some opinion is needed. Community speed watch and latterly community bridge watch are good examples of positive community action as well as projects like the village war memorial refurbishment and the new Christmas tree lights. The village always finds someone to take some project or issue on.

This is also the case where there are concerns at developments in and around the village as we have recently seen with the Lansdowne Travellers site. As the local Councillor and together with the Parish Council we supported the recent extension of the traveller site but on condition that there was no burning of waste on the site. This has not happened and waste burning fires are being regularly lit. The result is that the Parish Council, with my support, is pressing Wiltshire Council for meaningful action to prevent the burning of waste on the site adjacent to the A350. We will have to wait to see how effective this enforcement is or whether the residents decide to comply with the permission of their development.

Youth services as with all other council run services remain under financial pressure but it is good news that the local youth network for our community area is making provision for young people across our community area. In the past Council youth services concentrated on towns and it really is progress that free transport is being provided for (and used by) our young village residents to enjoy youth facilities at the Canberra Youth Centre every Thursday evening. Anyone who wants to take advantage of this should contact Jack Oatley at jack@youngmelksham.org.uk to book a 'pick up'.

Finally residents will want to know that I have recently been reselected by my local Party to stand again for election as your local Wiltshire Councillor in the elections of 2017.

NATURE NOTES

But these things also are Spring's

But these things also are Spring's –
On banks by the roadside the grass
Long-dead that is greyer now
Than all the Winter it was;

The shell of a little snail bleached
In the grass; chip of flint, and mite
Of chalk; and the small birds' dung
In splashes of purest white:

All the white things a man mistakes
For earliest violets
Who seeks through Winter's ruins
Something to pay Winter's debts,

While the North blows, and starling flocks
By chattering on and on
Keep their spirits up in the mist,
And Spring's here, Winter's not gone

Edward Thomas wrote this in March 1915 about what can be a confusing transition from Winter to Spring. This was a few months before he enlisted in the Artist's Rifles to fight in the Great War. This year, round here at least, the grass is not "greyer now"; rather it's a bright spring-green as though it never really stopped growing.

NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH

Protect yourself against bogus trades-people fraud •Always ask for identification before letting anyone you don't know into your house. •Check credentials, including a permanent business address and landline telephone number. The mobile phone numbers given on business cards are often pay-as-you-go numbers which are virtually impossible to trace. • Ask for references from previous customers or to see examples of their work. •Don't sign on the spot – shop around. Get at least three written quotes to make sure you're not being ripped off. •If in any doubt, ask the person to leave or call the Citizens Advice consumer helpline on 03454 04 05 06. Always get any agreement you make in writing. •Beware when filling in forms or when speaking to the salesperson, and ensure you don't reveal confidential details that a fraudster could use to assume your identity or take control of your finances. This may allow a fraudster to steal money from your account or order goods and services in your name. •Usually, you have a seven-day cooling off period. So if you decide to cancel the contract, act fast. •Never pay for work before it has been completed, and only then if you are happy with it.

There is a current newspaper article about a lady sending money by bank transfer to a carpenter for work to be done. In his email he asked for an advance and gave her his account number; she sent the money off. After a few days with no word from him, she rang him. He knew nothing about the account number she had been given or the email, and it transpired that his computer had been hacked and the hacker had sent the email, giving his own account number. The moral is if you receive an email from a friend or tradesperson asking you to make a new bank transfer be suspicious - ring the person and check you have the right bank details. If it is a large sum it's a good idea to send a small amount first then check they have received it, before sending the balance.

Check your credit report – it lists your accounts and what you owe, so you can spot spending that is nothing to do with you. Don't give too much away on websites such as Facebook and Twitter. If you can't resist the urge to share the details of your life with the world, don't use things such as names of your pets/partner/children as passwords!

BOOKCLUB

Bookclub met on 22nd Feb to discuss The Buddha of Suburbia. We welcomed two new members to the group and they had both read the book. It was yet another choice which divided the group. It was advertised as being a comedy and some of the group did find it funny whilst the rest could not even raise a grin over it. Some thought the writing flowed whilst others found it boring and hard going and had no empathy with or sympathy for the main character. On the whole the group found the bad language gratuitous, so let's hope the next book is a little more delicate! The next meeting will be on Tuesday 12th April at 8.00pm in the Somerset Arms to discuss 'All the Light we Cannot See' by Anthony Doerr. All welcome. Angela Grodzicka 870 756

Tomorrow Waits

A poem by J.A. Johnston from his book
'Reflections around my life'.
February 2004

To set the scene, John says "This poem has proved to be the best I have written (so I'm told). It was originally composed to let my son know that I was thinking of him in his time of need. It has proven to be of use to others for all sorts of reasons."

Today will have an ending,
Tomorrow starts anew,
Another chance to start again
When all your plans fall through.

Though sun may set on every dream
And toss to dust away,
Tomorrow's sun will rise again
To show this is your day.

This day will have an ending
Let trust in God be true
This day will pass and later;
Tomorrow waits for you.

You never know what health is till you lose it

St Paul's, Staverton with St. Mary Magdalen, Hilperton Marsh;

near the Kennet and Avon Canal, within the Dioceses of Salisbury

Dear Reader,

At a recent Benefice Service we were delighted to welcome 'Bishop Bill'! Yes, Bishop William Inge who became famous on TV when he appeared in the fascinating BBC series 'An Island Parish'. It featured life in the Scilly Isles which is in the Truro Diocese of which, before retirement, he was the Bishop. Since preparations for Lent were then well in hand, his address especially held our attention and gave encouragement. Many happy conversations took place following the service - a memorable morning - all of which gave much 'food for thought' as we went our ways.

The invitation in November's edition of the Hilperton and Staverton 'Parish News' to comment on its title and contents also gave 'food for thought' and brought forth some interesting points of view in response. It may be of use to recent readers to discover that the publication was originally set up by the local church many years ago as a means of communicating news of its services and other activities. Gradually, other groups were encouraged to contribute and so it developed as a wider community link. (Doubtless I'm not alone in discovering through its included items far more of what goes on around me locally than I could have imagined.) The invitation is still there - send in your relevant news, etc. for everyone to enjoy and benefit. If your village is going to keep such a magazine, make sure that it is lively and has accurate details of events and contacts.

Last month Marilyn included a quotation from Howard Thurman which encouraged the review of one's attitudes. This is a vital aspect of Lent for those seeking to discover more about the challenges of Christian faith and lifestyle which are frequently demanding and confusing in the context of modern local and worldwide communities. Given the speed of communications these days, one may be particularly tested by events discovered within seconds of their occurrence. Christians study the life and sacrifice of Christ and seek to find his attitude within the political and religious turmoil of his time on earth.

Matthew recorded conversations and encounters of Jesus, handed on to enrich generations searching for faith. Here is a modern version of the 11th Chapter of Matthew's wonderful news reports (verses 28-30):

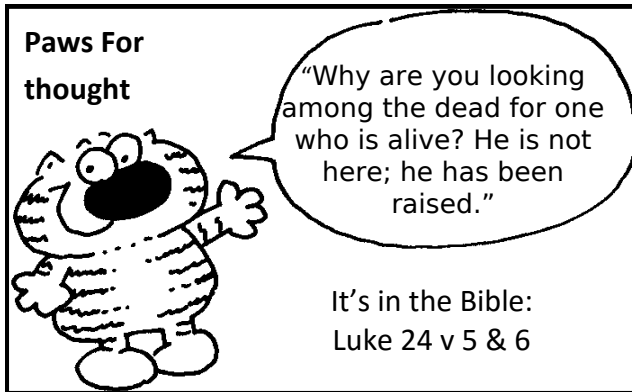

"Are you tired? Worn out? Burned out on religion? Come to me. Get away with me and you'll recover your life. I'll show you how to take a rest. Walk with me and work with me - watch how I do it. Learn the unforced rhythms of grace. I won't lay anything heavy or ill-fitting on you. Keep company with me and you'll learn to live freely and lightly."

Pondering alone or in small groups is our privilege in church communities. Do join us. Having studied the final days of Christ's life and hideous crucifixion, our sharing will be all the more glorious together on Easter Day

'For Jesus, the Saviour is risen.....
He is risen indeed!'

Blessings!
